British Airmen Undergoing Mental Agonies as They Fly Through Storms—Live in Haunting Fear of Others Winning Race—Exclusive Account of World's Greatest Aerial Epic

CHARLEVILLE, Australia, Oct. 23.—Australia seems to be bad luck for us—but bad luck or not, we're pushing along on the final leg to Melbourne and big money—with only one engine in operation and oil pressure cut down to five pounds. Almost immediately after we left Darwin at 11:10 p.m., the port engine went dead and oil pressure dropped. We had taken on just sufficient fuel to get us to Charleville. We were not happy about our position, and we ought to have returned to Darwin. But we understood that the Dutchmen in second place were on our heels, so we kept on with only one engine going. It took us nine hours to fly here from Darwin. Tom Campbell Black, my partner, has done most of the work on this Darwin-to-Charleville leg. We are very tired, but happy to be here. We have had only two hours sleep since leaving England. As for food, we managed to have a wing of chicken at Darwin.

I am really worried about the rest of the journey, as with only one motor going, we might not get to Melbourne, despite the fact we have a big lead. Nevertheless, we will stagger on to Melbourne on one engine, if we possibly can. When one of our engines had to be cut out, our only advantage—being close to Australia—we used only typical Australian adjectives. They can be strong enough at times.

Just as we landed here at Charleville, some one told me the Dutchmen—(K. D. Parmentier and J. J. Moll)—this minute had landed at Darwin. What's the answer? We must go on right away with one engine dead. We're off on the last lap—and I hope Lady Luck is perched on our tailskid.

Australia Here We Are: No More Oceans to Cross

DARWIN, Australia, Oct. 22.—Australia, here we are—after a dash of 11,000 miles from Merrie England in little more than two days and four hours—no more oceans to cross, no more vast mountain ranges to top before claiming the prize at Melbourne. Down on the underside. Here is how we did it.

Six o'clock in the morning of an October day is not an inspiring hour. This was the time selected for the start of the great flight to Australia—the most comprehensive test of flying that the world has yet seen. Our feelings as we sat in the cockpit of our De Havilland Comet at Middenhall awaiting our turn to take off may well be described as mixed (I speak for my companion, T. Campbell Black, as well as for myself).

It was an inspiring moment, but somehow or other I could not help feeling that Australia was really a very long way off. But we had not long to wait, the signal came, and we left the ground.

We climbed steadily to 7,000 feet and once in the air our feelings cleared.

For Four Hours Saw No Land At All From Start

We left England behind us near Alnearbough although we saw little of the sea because of the low clouds that were forming. But we flew on steadily and it was not long before we caught a glimpse of Holland through a gap in the clouds. But it was only a glimpse. We were now flying at a height of 10,000 feet with nothing in view below us but a white layer of clouds. But above them, where we were, visibility was perfect.

On we flew in the clouds. For four hours and 10 minutes we saw no land at all. This time seemed interminable. Suddenly the clouds thinned out and we saw the friendly land—a welcome sight.

Searching for landmarks, we spotted a river which we realized must be the Danube.

From this point to Bucharest progress wasn't so good. We had to contend with a head wind. But this didn't discourage us or dampen our spirits—we were confident of our ability to make up any loss later.

At this moment, while wondering where all the other fliers were, we decided to take our first meal, which consisted of hot soup. Soon after this, things began to look less promising.

Dirty Weather Ahead and Airmen Flying Right Into It

Not because of our soup, but because we could see dirty weather ahead and we were flying straight into it. During the whole of our flight over Turkey, we had to cope with low clouds and rain.

The flight from Kirkuk to Bagdad took only 45 minutes. The flight from Bagdad to Basra took only 45 minutes. The flight from Basra to the Persian Gulf took only 45 minutes. The flight from the Persian Gulf to the Arabian Sea took only 45 minutes. The flight from the Arabian Sea to the Indian Ocean took only 45 minutes. The flight from the Indian Ocean to the South China Sea took only 45 minutes. The flight from the South China Sea to the Philippines took only 45 minutes. The flight from the Philippines to Japan took only 45 minutes. The flight from Japan to Australia took only 45 minutes.

We were at Allahabad Sunday at 9:13 o'clock in the morning—27 hours and a trifle since we left Middenhall. We flew without any incident of importance or worry of record, except for the landing at Kirkuk, which I have described in a few extracts from my diary, jotted down as we were swinging along over the sand desert.

Menhall. Actually we passed Karachi 22½ hours out. Yesterday was an unlucky day for us, and yet it was terribly lucky. To lose one's way is unfortunate, but to find it with just sufficient petrol in the tank to resume one's journey—is remarkable.

"We were only at Bagdad for half an hour. The machine was refuelled in extra quick time. We both had a glass of beer, and while I checked the controls and made a couple

Further Split in City Labor Ranks Looming

Alderman Margaret Crang Will Support Rice Sheppard for Mayor

A further bombshell exploded when it was learned that Mrs. Margaret Crang, youthful alderman, who was second in the poll at the last civic election, would support Alderman Rice Sheppard in preference to Mayor D. K. Knott, if the former decides to contest the Mayorcy.

Mrs. Crang stated she had no quarrel with the Canadian Labor Party, but did not see eye to eye with them in their objection to the present mayor to be the standard bearer of the party.

I am convinced, and so are a great many members of the Canadian Labor Party, that Mrs. Crang is a woman of high character and high ability, and that she is a great asset to the city.

Plucky Dutchmen Get Second Place

MELBOURNE, Oct. 24 (Wednesday)—Parmentier and Moll, lost four hours in rainstorms 200 miles north-east of Melbourne, landed safely at Albury at 1:20 a.m. today. The Dutchmen were generally conceded second place in the great air race, despite the fact their big plane was carrying five persons. They were only about 10 hours behind the winners, Scott and Black. Besides Parmentier and Moll, the plane carries three Raasche, the well known German sportsman; P. M. Gillizen, R. J. Domine of Brazil, a radio operator, and another crew member, and 2,000 letters.

Shower Of Lead Ends Desperate Floyd's Career

By WILLIAM H. BYLANDER. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Oct. 23.—The long arm of the United States department of justice caught up with Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd, violent criminal of the Ozarks, near here Monday, and took his life in a hail of fire, pistols and machine gun bullets.

Federal agents and police came upon the No. 1 Public Enemy at a lonely farm, seven miles north of this city.

Fifty or more shots rang out inside the officers halted the criminal's flight, and he fell mortally wounded, unable to rise either of the two automobiles he was carrying.

Quickly the officers, including four department of justice men and four local Liverpool policemen, came up to his private farm.

Who the hell tipped you? demanded the dying man as he approached him. Then he inquired, "Where is Eddie?" (apparently

JOY REIGNS IN DIONNE HOME

CALLANDER, Ont., Oct. 23.—There was joy today in the Dufresne home, of the 148-day-old Dionne quintuplets, because the famous little girls were to be placed in a new home after being cared up for the past 48 hours. Heavy rains had necessitated keeping the babies inside.

The enforced stay indoors did the Dionnes no harm, however, and today they all registered gains in weight.

TANKER HELD IN STORM GRIP

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—Helpless and beaten before the fury of a South Pacific typhoon, the oil tanker Doherty, with 40 men aboard, floundered in a 500-mile race for the Philippines today.

Her bridge and radar were gone, her wireless was silent soon after the first flash for Alaska, and the nearest help was about 100 miles away—three days.

Electors Of City Will Determine Mooted Question

Ald. J. W. Findlay's drastic proposal to tax unearned increments, including interest and dividends, will be made one of the chief issues of the coming civic election campaign, it was indicated in the action of city council Monday night.

On the motion of Ald. Margaret Crang, city council on Monday night tabled this contentious question until after the elections. It being suggested that candidates speak from the platform on the proposal during the forthcoming campaign.

Ald. Findlay's motion followed: That we petition the provincial government to impose a tax on all unearned increments, including interest and dividends. That the said tax be collected at source. That the tax be collected by the city of Edmonton. That the tax be not less than 2% of the unearned increment. That the provincial government find that it has not got the necessary majority in the legislature to enact that we request the government to authorize the delegate to the interprovincial conference in November at Ottawa to seek legislation in line with the spirit of this resolution.

MILLERS CLAIM FLOUR MARKET IS DESTROYED

Bennett Government in New Jam over Policies on Wheat

By THOMAS WATLING. Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin. OTTAWA, Oct. 23.—Czechs here to import Economic Conference agreements and its wheat stabilization efforts in Western Canada the government was in a new jam today with claims from Canada millers that government policies are destroying the Eastern Canadian market as well as the world market for flour.

It was further reported that the general system of holding the Canadian price above world prices by the means of returning to market the surplus wheat, has not only been a failure, but has also been a waste of British money. The Argentine government, it was said, has been able to sell its wheat in the first nine months of this year have

GIRL KIDNAP STORY FALLS

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 23.—Dorothy Marie Hanna, 14, of Huntington, believed by her parents to have been kidnapped, was found today by Charleston police who said she told them she left her home to "hitch-hike" to Florida.

The huge gas bag with its silver mesh netting, cut off from the ground at 5:30 a.m., hovered perilously over the city and then rapidly up in the low-hanging clouds where Mr. Piccard released 50 pounds of ballast.

The balloon quickly caught by a southerly wind and carried out of sight of the crowd of more than 8,000 persons who had been gathered at the airport since long before daylight. Henry Ford was one of the spectators.

10,000 FRENCH FACE HUNGER

VERDUN, Oct. 23.—Lack of ready cash to finance the cost and unwillingness of banks to advance money are said to have forced the Moravian land municipality of Verdun today to abandon all its 11,700 unemployed families and leave about 10,000 persons facing starvation.

Representatives of the city were to confer with Premier L. Tuckey today, in a last attempt to find some way out of the situation.

NRA TO FIGHT GIRLS' BATTLE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—NRA thinks chorus girls should get $5 a week more on the road than when they are in a regular stand. This is one of the provisions in a new code for the legitimate full length and musical theatre industry approved today by the Recovery Board.

The minimum pay for chorus girls with an extra $5 when the show was travelling. The new code was approved with the range depending on box office ticket charges.

KIDNAP - JAIL BREAKER BACK

THE BUSINESS FINDER!

When a retail business is required to narrow and limit the scope of newspaper advertising, the advertiser is faced with a choice of two courses. One is to use a large newspaper, and the other is to use a small newspaper. The advertiser should choose the small newspaper, as it is more economical and more effective.

BRITISH PILOT WINS POT OF GOLD, BRIDE

Campbell Black Gets Girl Promised if He Wins Race

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Campbell Black, co-pilot of the C. W. A. Scott who won the London to Melbourne air race today, was racing not only for the prize, but for a bride, it was revealed here.

During the rush of preparations for the departure from Middenhall last week, the young airman found time to propose marriage to the English actress, Florence Desmond.

"If you win this race I will give you my answer," Mrs. Desmond said in response to Black's proposal.

With that added incentive Black set out on the aerial dash half way around the globe.

Mrs. Desmond told the Daily Mail today that she and Black had been "great friends" for some time, and that he had taken her to the circus.

"I knew the dangers of the flight to Australia, and although I felt he would win, I realized I might never see him again," Mrs. Desmond said.

Black is a few hours before the start of the race out at the air-drome, he asked me to marry him. I wanted to say yes then and there. But I thought it would help him more if I delayed my answer until he won this race."

YOUNG BABE UNDER KNIFE

BALTIMORE, Oct. 23.—Physicians at the Maryland General Hospital concentrated Monday on saving the life of a baby boy, born Friday at Mrs. Maria Shephard, 36, of Baltimore.

An immediate operation was necessary to remove the appendix, and about two-thirds of the small intestine.

The new-born was placed in an incubator and has been given oxygen from time to time to aid it in its fight for recovery.

ITALIAN FLIES AT 435 MILES

DESENZANO, Italy, Oct. 23.—Lieut. Francesco Agello today apparently broke the world's air speed record, when he flew his seaplane at a rate reported unofficially at 700 kilometres per hour over Lake Garda.

The new speed would be 10 miles an hour over the record Agello set here April 16, 1933, when he established a mark of 682.07 kilometres (424.82 miles) an hour.

Agello flew a biplane, a seaplane which has been in preparation many months, and was able to have reached a speed of 450 miles an hour in a trial flight.

Little Tots Send up Loud Protest When Attend- ants Keep Them From Usual Fresh Air Outing

CALLER, Oct. 22.—Dr. A. R. Bate, physician to the amazing, blind, quadriplegic sisters, said today his two charges, just 11 weeks old, could not be considered to have the life expectancy of normal children born here.

The babies stayed indoors for the second day on November, squalling lustily as the time for their outing passed without any sign of a move on the part of their attendants to take them into the veranda. Cold cream smeared on their faces Sunday morning, a slight tendency to sunburn suffered Saturday during a four-hour outing and the babies showed smooth, bronze-colored countenances.

YUGOSLAVIA HAS CABINET

BEGRAD, Yugoslavia, Oct. 22.—A new cabinet, headed by Nikola Uzunovic as premier, was approved by the Yugoslav regency early today.

General Zivkovic was reappointed as minister to the disappoin-

The new regime includes Dr. Milan Stokich and M. Marinkovic, both of whom were formerly prime ministers in the late King Alexander's discredited cabinet.

All members of the new cabinet were in Alexander's government. M. Marinkovic and Dr. Stokich were added as ministers without portfolio.

Action Against Citizens Able To Pay Taxes Urged

Strong action should be taken by the city in cases where property owners able to pay taxes refuse to do so, Ald. A. A. Ainsley urged today night when he introduced a resolution to urge the city council to deal with the franchise committee's recommendation that "the system of charging interest on arrears of taxes at eight percent per annum commencing January 1, 1935, be continued annually." Council members supported Ainsley's motion.

A. A. Ainsley, who said he had written the resolution, said he was sure the city would be able to pay its taxes.

Ald. Ainsley felt that a great

RATEPAYERS' MEETINGS TO BE CANCELLED

Only Change Made in Municipal Election Procedure This Year

Only one change was made in municipal elections procedure by city council meeting at Rome, Sunday.

A decision was made to discontinue the policy of holding two ratepayer meetings on the North and South sides prior to the opening of the campaign.

Polling hours for election day, Wednesday, November 14, were set at 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The committee composed of the continuing aldermen of city council was appointed to arrange dates and place of meeting for the election campaign.

Discussing the question of the ratepayers' meetings, which through a policy over a large number of years have become more or less of an institution, Mayor D. K. Knott said that during the past few years attendance had been very small.

He said this was due to the fact that the meetings had been very small.

Dominion Leads In Air Transportation Noted Aviator Says

More Freight, Express, Mail Handled in 1933 Than Any Other Country C. H. "Punch" Dickins Tells Men's Forum

"Some idea can be had of the development of aviation in Canada during the past ten years, during the flying season, more freight, express and mail was handled by airplane in this country than was handled by such transportation in any other country in the world," said C. H. "Punch" Dickins, president of the Dominion Flying Club, Monday night under the auspices of Highlands United Church.

For the purpose of promoting good fellowship and the aviation social and economic problems, last night's meeting is the first of a series of meetings which will be held each month.

Under the chairmanship of E. G. Hume, the meeting had an attendance of twenty men. All arrangements were in charge of a committee under the chairmanship of H. G. Willis, while community singing was directed by the choir, accompanied at the piano by H. G. Leach.

Supper was served by Group No. 3 of the Women's Auxiliary of Highlands United Church.

AVIATION DEVELOPMENT
The development of aviation during the last decade and the development of the Great Bear Lake field was the subject of the speech which Dickins, who is northern superintendent of the Canadian Airways Ltd., delivered.

Commenting on the outline of the progress of aviation from its initial successes in 1907 by the Wright Brothers, who were the first to successfully fly power driven planes, Mr. Dickins explained to his hearers the gradual development of the present day efficiency of aviation.

"The development of aviation has taken place with the development of the mining fields of Canada, all in close place during the last twenty-seven years," said Mr. Dickins.

GREAT STRIDES
During the war the development of aviation was much accelerated, stated the speaker, and by 1918 development of planes had made great strides both from the point of view of safety and speed.

"It was not until about 1920," said Dickins, "that commercial aviation was taken up seriously."

In this respect British manufacturers deserve the credit for developing an effective machine only a few years later. In fact, it was a Britishman, Captain Fokker, who started the first commercial airline company in the world, when he gave the United States aviation industry its first great impetus."

LOOK TO MINING
In speaking of the aeroplane as a tool to mineral development, Mr. Dickins stated that during the past ten years the aeroplane has been used for exploration and prospecting in the mining fields of Canada, and has been of enormous value in all branches of mineral development.

"Great Bear Lake mineral field has one producing mine at the present time and will have four other producing mines in operation during the next six months," stated Mr. Dickins.

"It is on account of aeroplane transportation that Great Bear Lake mineral field has developed more during the past four years than similar fields have developed in twelve years in the past."

REGULAR SERVICES
Although commercial air transportation in the north is not yet regular, beginning until 1935, there is now regular passenger and mail services for ten months in the year to practically every inhabited part of the north.

RELIGION NO ISSUE WITH "U." FACULTY

Alleged Undermining of Student Belief Causes Furor

Detaching his drive and intention to work constructively at all times, Dr. R. C. Wallace, president of the University of Alberta, on Tuesday stated that no specific issue had been brought to his attention of cases where university professors had attempted to undermine religious belief, or of students as had been alleged in a series of articles in city papers.

In the meantime the University students themselves are taking up the question and have arranged an open forum discussion in Convocation Hall at 8 p.m. on Thursday on the resolution: "That this meeting deplore the alleged action of the university authorities to invade the personal liberty of the students."

Speakers for the affirmative are Charles A. Perkins and Ken Macdonald while for the negative will be John E. Hume and John Shortliffe. The discussion promises to be a hot one, and of considerable debate.

NO COMPLAINTS MADE
Mr. Wallace, however, made no complaint on Tuesday stating that no complaints had been made to him regarding the alleged teaching in question and expressed himself as being surprised if any action was required. Dr. Wallace said that he was not aware of any such action.

MERCURY DROPS TO 20 DEGREES
Clouds cleared during the night and the mercury dropped to 20 degrees, the low temperature falling again with heavy frost.

Tuesday morning was bright and clear but a dropping barometer, at 27.05, indicates partly cloudy weather with probable showers Wednesday.

Yesterday's highest temperature was 35 degrees, lowest 20 at 9 a.m. rising to 33 at 9 a.m. A five-mph. southeast wind prevailed this morning.

In the north a few light frosts reported clear weather, while it was snowing at Hudson Hope, Fort Vermilion and Fairview.

Chipman Resident Has Auto Stolen
Leaving his residence at the corner of 101 street and 102 avenue early Monday evening, Fred Barma, merchant of Chipman, Alberta, entered a local hotel, but his machine was not found in the spot where he had left it, his machine being found it had become prey to auto thieves.

With the car, thieves took $100 worth of groceries and clothing and Barma, merchant of Chipman, local wholesale warehouses for his store.

Program lights on the back of every seat are a feature of one new North West Territories, said Mr. Dickins.

"I predict that in a very short period of time there will be a regular round-the-world aeroplane transportation system which will not only serve the northern, but also across Canada, since the short Pacific route is the northern and the North Atlantic route is the safer," stated Mr. Dickins.

The next meeting of the Highlands United Church will be held November 10, when H. S. Reynolds will speak on "Criminal Investigation Work."

THE INQUIRING REPORTER
McGill University has opened a "date bureau" where loquacious college men and lovelorn coeds can get together for an evening's entertainment.

"How do you figure a similar bureau would not over in your university, or high school," asked The Bulletin's Inquiring Reporter today.

The reporter said below:

ERIC ROBINSON, engineering student: "A commendable suggestion. For the small sum of one cent, which would be the bureau charges for service one could have someone to whom to turn in love with the pretty campus and date."

MARJORIE MILLS, McDougall Commercial student: "I was along very nicely without a date bureau, thank you."

WINNIPEG, Oct. 22.—Despite the prevailing export sales of Canadian wheat, wheat futures prices in the Winnipeg Grain Exchange improved in a dull session today. Influenced by advances in all outside markets, values showed a decided recovery.

The session was quiet and featureless, with the following closing prices:

October 1931, December 1931, and May 1932.

Canadian grain futures were dull, closing following the trend of values.

DULL, SPOTTY SESSION N. Y. STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The stock market presented a rather dull and spotty picture today as most investors kept their eyes on Washington and their hands on their pocketbooks.

OF VERN'S PLANS

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Oct. 22.—Legal machinery of the United States government picked up again Monday toward a conclusion of the famous Bettendorf kidnapping case.

Mrs. Fern Mae Sankey, attractive widow of the notorious Vern, appeared in Federal court for the second time on charges of conspiracy in kidnap.

After a preliminary hearing, Judge Phillips, Federal District Attorney, outlined the case in which he said the government would show Mrs. Sankey was fully aware of her husband's plans to kidnap Charles Bettendorf, 28-year-old Denver banker, in February, 1930, and was liable in conspiracy and possibly life sentence.

Mrs. Sankey has been at liberty under $10000 bond since last May.

HOCKEY WAR LOOMING OVER ST. LOUIS TERRITORY

Charley Devere, of Baseball Fame, Will Wed

WATSON by BILL LEWIS

Local friends of Ernie Kenny will be pleased to learn that the tall defenseman is to get in the chance in major league company. . . . One of the Edmonds' defense the last two seasons, Kenny boarded the train for the east last night to report to Chicago Blackhaws, where he will get his chance to show whether he can hold a berth with that National League club. . . . The big fellow has shown remarkable improvement since he first played senior hockey here with the old Eiks in the amateur circuit. . . . Last winter, he was one of the most effective performers from the Northwestern, both offensively and defensively and should be a valuable acquisition to the Hawks.

Johnny Sheppard, formerly of Kokomo, New York Americans, Boston Bruins and last year of Chicago Blackhaws, along with Ed Robertson, Eiks' original center of last winter, are in Winnipeg, where they will be shooting for jobs with Montreal Maroons. . . . The Maroons and New York Rangers now have their training season underway at Winnipeg.

Even more Edmonton professional hockey men will be with different clubs when the 1934-35 campaign starts. . . . Gene Carigan, last year with Detroit, will be with Boston this season, while Roger Jenkins, who played defense for Chicago last winter, will be in the lineup of Montreal Les Canadiens.

Local fans are hoping reports from Winnipeg to the effect the Colville brothers will play in an amateur league in the United States are wrong. . . . Mac is still eligible for junior company, while Neil would look mighty good on a senior club here. . . .

Apparently there was some report that Montreal Maroons would operate Calgary Tigers franchise in the Northwestern League this year as a "farm" but Tommy Gorman, now the big shot of the eastern outfit, says definitely that he is not interested in a farm team of any sort. . . . All of which would seem to flatten that rumor.

Calgary will probably take a long time to recover from the shock of last Saturday when Alomais and Greyhounds, respectively, lost to Xanadu and Kinnamen, of this city, in gridiron battle. . . . For Alomais, the defeat meant the loss of the provincial senior championship, while the setback for Greyhounds just counted them out of the running for the junior title.

Kinnamen, as fine a junior football team as this city has produced in years, battle the Greyhounds here on Saturday in the final game for the championship and there is certain to be a great deal of interest in the game. . . . It will be a great thing for the game here if Edmonton bids both the senior and junior crowns this year.

Great changes in temperature or exposure to intense cold weather can be without by snakes.

OF ALL THE BONEHEADS! NOW WE HAVE WENT AND MISSED THE TRAIN ALL BECAUSE YOU WAITED TILL THE LAST MINUTE TO BUY A TICKET.

WELL, WAS IT MY FAULT THAT I COULDN'T REMEMBER WHICH SHOE I HAD MY MONEY IN, HONEY?

IF IT WASN'T FOR ME YOU'D NEVER OF KNOWN THAT TRAINS HAD CUSHIONS. MERCY ME! I DON'T KNOW HOW YOU COULD EVER LIVE WITHOUT ME.

A DARNST CHIEFER I SHOULD SAY.
